

The Bookish* Newsletter!

Issue No. 9 | OCTOBER 2025

Check out updates on my good reads progress, upcoming titles, lists, and reviews.

[Latest ARC Review] He's The Devil

Toby Coventry [HORROR, LGBT]

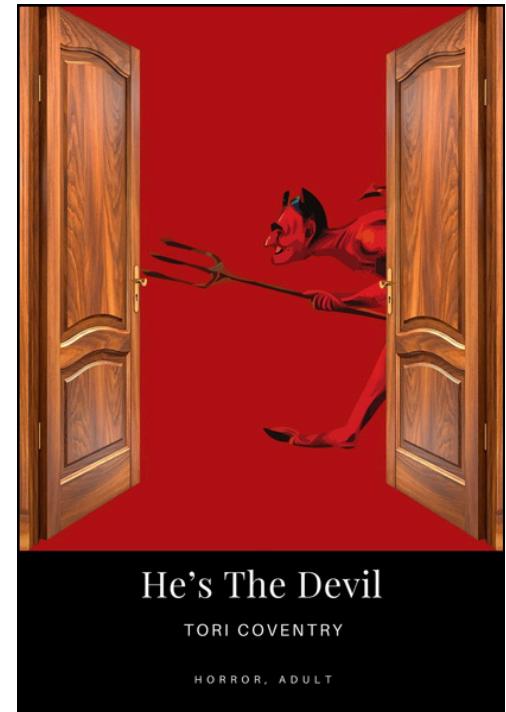

Thank you to Net Galley and Abrams Pressg for this title.

He's The Devil wasn't quite what I was expecting, and according to the description, I think I completely missed the mark. While there are moments of humor and the synopsis hints at that, it never fully pulled me in.

I couldn't connect with the protagonist (or antagonist), Simone—whatever he was meant to be. This is purely a matter of personal taste, but he grated on me from beginning to end. The thirstiness was over the top. I understand the human need for connection and to feel wanted, but everything about him—especially that desperate need to please—drove me a little mad.

Because of the graphic nature, this one won't be everyone's cup of tea. I didn't mind that aspect, but I found myself more distracted by trying to figure out whether this entity was a devil, a demon, or some blend of both. Even when its origin was explained, it didn't bring much clarity.

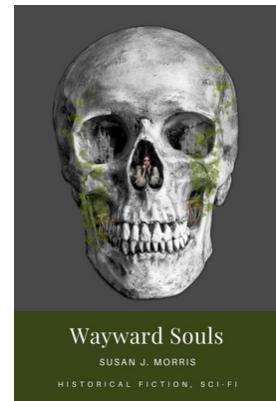

In the end, I gave this book three stars—mostly for the confusion, dread, and the overall chaos that every character seemed to bring to the table.

3.0

NEXT UP ARC TITLES

More Updates & Reading Progress!

Upcoming Mystery Thriller

It's November and time to tuck into a good mystery or thriller for the Fall season.

HAVEN'T KILLED IN YEARS

AMY GREEN

(November 18, 2025)

MYSTERY, THRILLER

No one is supposed to know harmless office worker Gwen Tanner is the vanished daughter of serial killer Abel Haggerty. But a low profile and a new name aren't going to cut it when an obsessive new killer starts targeting her,

Marin Haggerty, the daughter of a notorious serial killer, was only a child when they arrested her father. Ripped from her home and given a new identity, Marin disappeared.

Twenty years later, Gwen Tanner keeps everyone at a distance, preferring to satirize the world around her than participate in it. It's for her safety—and theirs. But when someone starts sending body parts to her front door, the message is I Know Who You Are.

Currently Reading

- ─ This Delicious Death, Kayla Cottungham
- ─ Incidents Around The House, John Malerman

October PURCHASES

With my Goodreads Challenge done, it's time to stock up and add some new titles to my library. Here's what I purchased in October.

Play Nice, Rachel Harrison

Dearest, Jacquie Waters

My Ex The Antichrist, Craig DeLouie

The Haunting of Blackwood House, Darcy Coats

Sign Here, Claudia Lux

The Killing Hills, Chris Offutt

COMPLETED TILES FOR OCTOBER!

Don't Fear The Reaper, Stephen Graham Jones

Come Closer, Sara Gran

The Word Is Murder, Anthony Horowitz

The Last Time I Lied, Riley Sager

This Book Will Bury Me, Ashley Winstead

The House at the End of Lacelean Street,

Catherine McCarthy

He's The Devil, Tobi Coventry

BOOK SOURCES

BookTrib [<https://booktrib.com/>]

Good Reads [<https://www.goodreads.com/>]

Book Riot [<https://bookriot.com/>]

NPR [<https://www.npr.org/books/>]

Literary Hub [<https://lithub.com/>]

Booktrovert [<https://booktrovert.com/>]

Fable [<https://fable.co/>]

October Reading Challenge!

"Read the last book on your tbr list."

If you'd like me to add a new feature, send me a note  at lifebywyetha@gmail.com. Subscribe to get the December edition in your inbox!

